Hospital Credentialing

IRBIS will now display, for all admin roles, a view to the current credentialing per the UNC Healthcare System. Please note that this data is still being evaluated and caution should be taken to confirm that it is correct prior to making any decision. Only staff with a credential linked to their Hospital ID / PID will have this information provided as it comes from a UNC Healthcare source.

This data will be displayed in the Project Personnel table and the COI/Training Table in the IRBIS admin view. The COI Weblink column has been removed to make room for a new Credentials Column:

Join the Conquest transition to Research for Me @ UNC

As announced by TraCS Institute, Join the Conquest is being transitioned to a new Research for Me @UNC website. In IRBIS B.1.1., Methods of Recruiting, Join the Conquest has been removed from the list of methods of recruiting. A new B.1.2. Research for Me section has been added.

Researchers will now be required to choose from one of three options:

2. Research for Me @ UNC is the public-facing, comprehensive, online portfolio of human subjects research at UNC and of applicable studies at UNC affiliates. Study teams may choose whether to submit basic or recruitment information for inclusion on the site.

- Select one of the three listing options below.
- For either the Core or Recruitment Information Listing, complete the REDCap form via the weblink (5-10 minutes, once per study).
- A PDF of the listing will be emailed to the PI and contacts listed on the form. It can also be found on Researcher Dashboard.

For Recruitment Information Listing, this PDF should be uploaded as an Attachment to your IRB application. *

Core Information Listing
Basic study registration information will be displayed until enrollment closes; team contact information will not be visible to the public. Retain PDF for your records. view example

Recruitment Information Listing
Extended recruitment information will be displayed during the recruitment time frame that I select, allowing potential participants to express interest in the study. Core information is displayed outside of the selected recruitment window. Attach PDF to this application. view example

Request to Opt Out of Study Listing
This study involves specific confidentiality and/or security requirements which would be compromised by a public listing of any information at all. This may include studies which are classified, involve deception, or are of such a sensitive or specific nature that public listing may compromise participant confidentiality.

Required document(s): Research for Me at UNC Listing PDF

To request optimization of your listing language or if you have any questions about Research for Me @UNC, please email research\_for\_me@unc.edu.
To update an existing study listing: Edit or manage this listing via Researcher Dashboard. FAQs and additional guidance are also available.

Option one: Basic study information will be displayed, but the listing will not be used for recruitment purposes.

Option two: Recruitment information will be displayed to participants and they must upload a PDF copy of the Research for Me @ UNC listing information as a required attachment.

Option three: This study should not be included in a public listing form.

COI Letter Display Ordering in IRBIS

If a COI letter has been updated by the COI office, the letters will now be displayed with the most recent letter at the top.

This will avoid scrolling to determine if a new letter has been added to the bottom of the list, which may result in an update being overlooked.
